

T-R's 12th One-on-One tourney opens June 11

The Times-Reporter's 12th annual One-on-One basketball tournament may be on the verge of another repeating champion in the girls' division when the 1984 event is held June 11-15 in the Dover High gymnasium.

Last summer, West Holmes' Lisa Cline charged to the girls' title as a sophomore. She succeeded three-time winner Caroline Mast, now a standout at Ohio University.

Cline, the Ohio Class AA Player of the Year and leading scorer (29.9 average) of 'AA' state champion West Holmes, returns to defend her crown as a junior.

IN THE BOYS' division, a new victor is assured as Garaway's Jim Widder has gone on to the collegiate basketball ranks.

Several All-Ohio performers are in this year's field and rate among the tournament favorites.

Besides Cline, Jewett-Scio's Kim Tullis and Garaway's Susan Mueller earned All-Ohio second team recognition this past winter. The Miami (Ohio) University-bound Tullis was the second-leading area girls' scorer with a 27.3 average, and Mueller was third at 26.7. Both are seniors.

Among the boys, Coshocton's Tom Sandry and Malvern's Cliff Lairson both garnered second team All-Ohio honors as seniors.

THERE ARE 24 players entered in each division. Matches will begin at 6:30 p.m. on June 11 and 12 and at 7 the last three nights.

As always, admission at the One-on-One is free with plenty of good seats available. Approximately 3,500 fans witnessed last year's tournament.

Tournament rules remain the same as last year. The drawing will be held June 4.
