In Canal Dover, O., at the residence of the bride's father on the 18th day of Feb. 1873 by J. W. Newburgh, Esq., Mr. Charles Kastor and Miss Anna Grove were married (1873).

Charlie Baker and Louie Deardorff are home from Mount Union College during vacation chock full of useful knowledge (1874).

On Friday of week before last Miss Nina Emerson daughter of Mr. Wesley Emerson celebrated her seventh birthday. A large number of her friends and relatives, old and young, paid their respects and a very pleasant day was passed. We know Miss Nina will grow up a good and useful woman, because she has started right. Even in her tender years she remembers the printer and that cannot fail to be productive of good results. also of Zoarville at 12 o'clock. Rev. Lautenschlager of Massillon performed the ceremony in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The impressive ring service was used. They were unattended. The bride was charming in a gown of white crepe meteor. Following ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served at tables profusely decorated with roses and carnations interspersed with ferns.

The young couple left this afternoon for a several week's trip through the East and on their return will make their home in Zoarville, where the groom is manager of Ehler's General Store.

The bride is a sister of J. Ross Lebold (1915).

Mrs. Elmer Harstine, formerly Miss Pearl Rinehart of Dover, who was married several months ago, was given a double surprise on Thursday evening by members of the degree team of the Pythian Sisters and employees of the Dover Telephone Office of which she was formerly chief operator.

Chicago for the first 12 years of the club's life. When this service was discontinued, the organization continued to function but changed its name to the Delphian Study Club, by which it is still known.

Members assisted in the organization of the Dover Federation of Women's Clubs in 1926 and have actively participated in its undertakings since that time.

Among the group's civic projects have been pre-school clinics, solicitations for YMCA memberships, volunteer service for the Canteen at Dennison during World War II and contributions of money to the various fund drives, the Public Library, YMCA and families in need of their help.

using the equation C-2 and B-2. Miss Beiler, an art teacher, painted a red rose which still is used on the club's program booklets.

Mrs. Stephenson (the former Mrs. Hugh Sproul) was the club's first president and that office now is held by Mrs. H. E. Reed.

Included in its contributions to the community have been the purchase of furniture for a reception room of Union Hospital, aid in purchasing uniforms for the Dover High School Band, gifts to the Dover Library and purchase of a pew for the Schoenbrunn Moravian Church.

Mrs. Richard L. (Wanda) Kleine, current president of the Woman's Study Club, is a daughter-in-law of one of its charter members, Mrs. H. J. (Miriam) Kleine.

Other charter members still active in the group are Mrs. William Belknap, Miss Edna Muckley, Mrs. Elden Steitz and Miss Ruth Rinderknecht.

Their object "To Study and Learn" has not been changed and book reviews, study of foreign lands, religion and other topics of interest occupy their meeting time.

sociation with the Literary Club. Members of the latter group were instrumental in the organization of the branch in 1936.

Its programs, like the other clubs, include study sessions covering a wide variety of subjects.

Officers are Mrs. Allen Veigel, president; Mrs. Richard Baker, first vice - president; Mrs. Glen Polen, second vice-president; Mrs. D. H. Cua, secretary and Mrs. John Cooley, treasurer.

The Clonian Club might well be termed one of the "older" young clubs in Dover. The group, organized in 1930, has not made a great fanfare about its philanthropic projects but each year a Dover High School girl receives at least a part of her wardrobe from the club's members.

The name of the girl for whom the clothing is purchased is never revealed and so the young miss need feel no embarrassment among her classmates.

Four of the charter members are still active in the organization, Mrs. Howard (Bernice Spahr) Gibbs, Mrs. Phil (Shirley Hawk) Capper, Mrs. Katharine Wagner Shields and Mrs.
