

4-H

A BICYCLE safety rodeo, set for May 21, was discussed when Stone Creek Bake-N-Baste members met in the home of their adviser. The event is scheduled from 10 a.m. until noon in the Grace United Church of Christ parking lot.

Various safety speeches will be given, a skill lesson will be conducted and bicycles will be checked for safety.

Nancy Scott gave a health report on drugs and Beth Poland reported on bicycle safety. Jane Bucher and Jodi Syler served refreshments.

DEMONSTRATIONS WERE given by Patty Triplett and Diana Barbee when Eastend Homemakers met in the home of Mrs. Dan Harding. Members are to paint the equipment at the kiddy park.

THE CROOKED RUN Clover Stitchers met in the home of Phyllis Miller. The club is selling tickets for the 4-H chicken barbecue to be held at the Tuscarawas County fairgrounds June 4 at 4 p.m.

Plans have been made for a bake sale on June 18 at Monroe Mall and the following girls will be representing the club in the Miss 4-H contest June 21 at Tuscora Park: Mindy Bigler, petite division; Lisa Eckert, junior division and Wanda Stucky, teen division.

MARTY SAUSER hosted 18 members of the S & E club as four new members were welcomed. Those who had completed their craft projects gave demonstrations. A trip to the ceramic shop is being planned when school is dismissed for the summer.

A BAKE SALE to be held June 4 and the planting of flowers at the Hiland sign were discussed when the Berlin Busy Beams met.

The business session was in charge of Tina Sommers, a poem was read by Kim Schneider, demonstrations were given by Tamie Larson and Jackie Miller, recreation was in charge of Rita Boyd and project assignments were made by the advisers. Tamie Larson served refreshments.
