Dover Band: A New Beginning

Above is the Dover Bands full-time "band head" Wendy Fortney. Wendy is an example of the spirit in the Dover band. She possesses dedication, pride, and puts a lot of effort into everything she does. Dedication is a must. Without dedication from each member, the Great Dover Band would be no longer great. Pride is essential. Without pride and support from the community, the band would not have confidence. Effort is required to put on an outstanding performance. The effort has to be made, or the show won't go on. Top right is the marching band in all their glory. Lower left is the band during an outstanding performance. Lower right shows Karen Keppler ("Lips") concentrating on delivering another good show. After many years of hoping for new uniforms and a new band shell, their dream came true. In the summer of '80, the band shell was being constructed. Uniform fittings were being held at the school. Both of these big projects were financed by an anonymous donor. The band takes this opportunity to thank our anonymous friend for helping maintain our high standards. The band is truly grateful for such large, necessary gifts as a band shell and brand new uniforms.

Another Year —

Another Great Band

Here we have our 1980-81 drum major, Bart Herman keeping up the old tradition with "New Blood."

... And Leadership

Philip Wagner
Recipient of the John Philip Sousa Award

Above we see the leaders of the Dover band: the band council. It is the elected council member's job to represent their individual classes to decide on important issues that the directors might wish to discuss. The council met every Tuesday after school to talk about what was pleasing or displeasing them. The directors value the time and effort each member has given. This year's band council took charge of the band show and the band banquet, two very large projects, as well as heading the publicity, spirit, stage crew, and "Swagger" newspaper committees. The 1980-1981 members were: President, Phil Wagner, Julie Moore, Bart Herman, Jane Karl, Denise Wells, Linda Dreher, Sara West, Secretary Jill McCombs, Jim Slusser, Historian Ellen Hennis, Vice president Karen Keppler, Assistant Secretary Paula Harmon, Cathy Short, Melanie Burkhart, Jay Wherley, Scott Kellicker, Rod Flauhaus.

DHS Choir —

A Concerted Effort

Below, the sopranos reach new heights. On the stairs, Top to Bottom, are Shelly Mutschelknaus, Mary Jane Marshall, Cheryl Barker, Lori Rauschenbach, Joyce Schilling, and Sharon Murch. On floor: Becky Spies, Kim Law, and Michelle Hartz.

1980-81 was another busy and productive year for the choir. We held our traditional concerts at Christmas and in the spring. Both were well attended and enjoyed by our families, friends and neighbors. The choir also participated in a workshop with four other choirs, which was not only interesting and fun, but sometimes a little crazy! When Solo and Ensemble Contest rolled around in February, about twenty of our members summoned up the courage to compete, and we were very proud when most of them brought home Superior ratings.

This year had one sad aspect — it was the last year that we'll have the help of our Assistant Director, Miss Christine Baker. We'll never forget her help when we just couldn't learn those impossible harmonies, or when our music had to be checked off two days ago, but she played it for us anyway. Good luck, Miss Baker. We'll miss you.
