OH WHAT A VARSITY SQUAD!

This year's varsity squad worked very well together. Besides having a great time, they kept the spirit going throughout the winning season, despite the few losses. Pictured at the left is the 1982-83 Varsity squad. Left to right — Captain Julie Margletta, Steph Deeds, Becky Zifer, Cathy Feller, Charlene McHenry, and Amy Contini. C.C. CHAMPS — ONCE AGAIN!

The expectations of the Dover Tornados for the 1982 season were very high. The team started out with victories over Columbus South and St. Thomas Aquinas. But then a two-week stretch hurt the team, and a one point loss to rival Claymont and a five-point loss to undefeated Steubenville seemed to spell disaster. Although the Tornados continued to struggle, a one-point loss to Wooster seemed to put hopes for a fourth straight conference championship on the shelf. The true Tornado spirit came to the surface against Mansfield Madison, and who can forget the last-second victory over North Canton! But the icing on the cake came when Dover dominated New Phila for the 4th time in a row in the local classic. This victory and a Wooster loss gave the Tornados their 4th straight cardinal championship.

Cross a lot of country for D.H.S.

Led by new coach Tom Bowers, the 1982 Cross Country team had a winning season with 3 wins and 2 losses. The team was second in the league and 11th in the sectional. Each of the twelve members did a great job and put forth their best efforts. One of Coach Tom Bower's goals next year is to get enough girls to participate in a girls' cross country team. Congratulations to Coach Bowers and the team for a winning season!!!!

Although their record of 10 wins and 10 losses suggests a somewhat mediocre season, this year's volleyball team was by far the best and most experienced team to wear the Dover colors. Leading the squad of six starting seniors were Dana Gasser, the Most Valuable Player, and Lisa Watkins, who had the Most Points and was awarded the Most Improved Player.

Dover Matmen

The Tornado wrestling team endured their second consecutive losing season with a 5 and 7 record. Defeats at the hands of such powers as Carrollton, Claymont, Ashland, and New Phila were expected, but three frustratingly close losses — including a one pointer — eliminated any possibility of a winning season.

Despite adequate leadership from the Senior class, the numbers were simply not there. Only four seniors — Dan Green, Steve McCartney, Phil Gordon, and Eric Foltz — dotted the whirlwind roster, at least a trio of Freshmen started every match and there was great difficulty in even filling the upper weights. With more experience coming back then has been the case for two years, better times are expected. Gordon and McCartney were four year lettermen and co-captains. Mac went undefeated, earned the Most Valuable Player award, and shared the Most Pins with cousin, Scott. Scott captured Most Improved laurels and was voted captain-elect for next year. Foltz was honored with the Coach's Trophy for Greatest Individual Contribution.

LADY CAGERS

This year's team boasts the best record in several seasons, not to mention the first winning record in many years. Some of the highlights were an exciting last-second win over Coshocton and a close victory over Mansfield Madison. The team was also first place in the Cardinal Conference for much of the season, Sue Eichel lead the way with the most points (292) and the most rebounds (212). Sue was first team Cardinal Conference, second team AP Eastern District, and Honorable Mention All Ohio. Other seniors receiving honors were Bobbie Fuetz (most assists — second team C. Conference), Dana Gasser (Honorable Mention C. Conference), And Tarry Powell (fifth leading scorer). The reserve team ended with a record of 8 wins and 11 losses but there was a definite overall improvement of the team from the beginning of the year to the end.
